I had clients who purchased a 3 family home with a carriage house in the back. They wanted to convert this property into 4 condo units. They could not find any lender to lend on this project and they were running out of time and money. I introduced them to Jeffrey and he was able to get the money needed

I brought a complicated project to Jeffrey in May. Two weeks later we had a commitment from a lender, and a final deal was executed a short time later. Jeff's persistence and follow-up was a critical part of the process. If you are looking for a solution, and more importantly execution and finality, call Jeff.

I've known Jeffrey professionally for almost 30 years. I recommend him for his persistence, his creativity and his ability to recognize opportunities where others perceive only obstacles. I can honestly say that it is fun, as well as profitable, doing business with him.
